

Foul Play Suspected

Navy Man's Body Discovered

Corps Located in Water at Wilmington as Result of Hunt for Three Days

Tennessee Ensign Declared to Have Attended Party Before Disappearing

Ensign Julian J. McShane of the U.S. Tennessee, whose body was found yesterday in the water at North 191, Wilmington, after a three-day secret search by naval authorities, was the victim of foul play, according to the theory advanced by police last night. The body, they said, shows marks other than those of drowning.

Investigation of a navy party at the California Yacht Club Friday night and other circumstances connected with the sailor's death, was begun yesterday following the finding of the body, police reported. McShane is said to have been a member of a party to North 191 only a few hundred yards from the Yacht Club.

BRIDES FOUND

More information was received in the investigation, quoted as having said yesterday afternoon that no marks of violence had been discovered on the body. Detective Lieutenant Wm. W. Evans later viewed the body, according to reports, and said blood had flowed freely from the ears, indicating serious concussion, the right ear was bruised and swollen, the left eye swollen and bruised, and the right eye cut and swollen.

A naval officer said junior and senior officers of the Tennessee had been a party at the yacht club Friday night. Counts were given as there were between sixty and seventy persons present. The party, the officer said, broke up by midnight, and he noted no signs of a struggle.

Some of the younger officers went to and fro between the club and a yacht tied up at the club landing, the officer said. It was regarded as extremely unlikely that anyone could have fallen unconscious on a trip of this nature, it was said.

REPORT WITHHELD

News that McShane was missing was withheld until after his body was found, but it was learned that naval authorities had been seeking him for several days before yesterday. A naval board of inquiry was ordered by Capt. C. L. P. Stone, commanding officer of the Tennessee, and another inquiry by others in the fleet was held.

A coroner's inquest probably will be conducted today. Police say a hat was found Saturday morning on the pier near the place where the body later was recovered. Police state this is believed to have been McShane's and that they have Friends of the dead men have refused to say whether it belonged to him. McShane was dressed in civilian clothes, according to police.

McShane's body was taken to the Morgue, under police escort.

An investigation was conducted after a report was made by the tug John N. 191 that the man's body had been found floating in the water in the vicinity of North 191, the same place where McShane was missing. The officer said he was recovered by navy searers.

It was learned that McShane had married in Baltimore. He was not married.

The hat was found by J. W. Condon, 1921 Temple Avenue, Long Beach, a boy who had been working at a New York store and a Philadelphia clothing mark. Police said McShane came home recently from the coast.

Estimates of McShane said he had an excellent personality and was very popular both at the Academy and on his ship. In navy circles his death generally is regarded as accidental.

Referring to child welfare work, the commander's report says:

"All our efforts are bent toward a home for every homeless child of a veteran."

In the last two years the Legion has raised and invested $8,000,000 in the veterans' fund. The income to be devoted to the rehabilitation of disabled command and to the care of their orphaned children.

Of the $8,000,000, $1,000,000 came from the government and $700,000 from the Midland National Bank of Washington Court House, O. which was operated under the presidency of Mal S. Daugherty, the former Attorney-General's brother.

OPPOSE GAS ABOLITION

Opposition by the United States Senate to the proposed abolition of gas is opposed by the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives, which the government contended would have comprised an important link in its chain of evidence.

Daugherty's counsel, in summation, asserted the records were burned to keep political foes from discovering facts concerning the Harding campaign fund which Harry Daugherty, then Mrs. W. Smith, Daugherty's wife, had been instrumental in helping to raise.

Of the $1,000,000, $100,000 came from the chairman of the national finance committee of the Legion. His report to the "growing disregard of law and order." This is the key.

Reviewing the work of the Legion this year, the report of Commander King said: "The Legion has been in the public eye more than any time when the public was so willing to co-operate in carrying out the Legion's aims and purposes."

The national rehabilitation committee, he pointed out, has made an excellent record and was very popular during the year.

MAL TESTIFIES

Mal Daugherty was one of the most sensational witnesses at the trial. He was called by the government to tell his story. Daugherty, in his records, which the government contended would have comprised an important link in its chain of evidence.

COOLIDGE ACT EASES COTTON

Naming of Committee Ends
Slump in Prices

Quotations Gain as Much as
$2 a Bale in Day

Experts Foresee Stabilizing of Market Soon

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (Exclusive)—The prompt action taken by President Coolidge over the weekend in appointing one of the strongest governmental committees that could be devised for looking into the cotton situation with the view of relieving planters and factors from the threatened heavy losses in their over-production of this season's crop not only checked the demoralization of the closing days of last week but turned prices up today for a good rally.

The Liverpool markets were rallied by this favorable news to a net advance at the close of 17 to 21 cents on the day against the rise of only 2 to 5 due. Southern spot markets were also braced and sentiment was so encouraged throughout the south as to encourage the resumption of the great pressure of hedge selling both here and at New Orleans by planters and factors against the crop.

Speculators were also on the alert.

The effect of the various developments was to check the spread of the demoralized sentiment.

UP $2 A BALE

The rally in prices here extended to between a bale and 48 points or over $2 a bale from Saturday's closing. The following are the quotations: December, 12.80 cents; January, 12.40 cents; February, 12.10 cents; March, 11.90 cents; and July, 12.10 cents. These were the lowest prices reached since February, 1921, and were the quotations which prevailed on the average here in July, 1921, just before the outbreak of the World War, when cotton prices were predicated on 190 cents to the dollar.

With the price so low that it is a great inducement to the cotton planter not only to buy freely to meet requirements over the winter and spring, but also to stock up in view of the certainty of a heavy cut in acreage next year, the advice is to "ring out" all contracts—representative spot-option houses to both domestic and foreign spinners to purchase both the actual cotton and the cotton and two-month contracts in anticipation of the market soon becoming stabilized.

COOLIDGE ASKED TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION

SMITHFIELD, N. C., Oct. 11. (AP)—President Coolidge was asked to call a special session of Congress in November to consider the depression of grain and cotton prices in a telegram sent today by Representative Edward W. Ford of the Farmers' Congress District and ranking Democrat on the House Rules Committee.

"Cotton farmers are threatened with financial ruin because of the recent decline in price," his telegram said. "If they are forced to sell at prevailing prices, they must accept from $20 to $25 a bale less than the cost of production, and the consequence is that they will be compelled to call the Congress to meet in extra session on or before November 8, in that opportunity given as quickly as possible to propose emergency legislation which may save from ruin the grain producers as well as the cotton producers of the nation."

"I have a profound conviction that any legislation that may come will be wise and proper to submit to the Congress to avert threatened disaster to the farmers of the nation, or any legislation proposed from any quarter with the same purpose in view, will be considered in a spirit of utter disregard to any partisan advantage whatsoever."

EXPERT FORESEES
LOSS OF 5 CENTS A POUND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—An average of 5 cents a pound is lost by the southern farmer who sells his cotton at the prevailing price of approximately 18 cents, Charles J. Marx, executive secretary of the National Farmers' Association, declared today in a statement based on a study of production costs on 1405 farms last year.

"A farmer who grows 100 pounds of cotton at 18 cents a pound," Mr. Marx said, "must receive at least 18 cents a pound to equal his production cost. The cotton problem will require gradual marketing, with a slow holding of the surplus, production cut to a minimum, and powerfully reducing the 1927 acreage. The crop is produced and must be held by someone until it is consumed. The holding should be so financed that, when it is ultimately disposed of, the farmer receives a fair level, which will surely come if a constructive plan is adopted, will insure benefits of the advance to the farmer and not solely to the speculative buyer." Marx, a former cotton consultant specialist in marketing for the Department of Agriculture and chief of the Bureau of Markets.

Marx Confident of Settlement
With M. Briand

ESSEN (Germany) Oct. 11. (AP)—Chancellor Marx addressing a large meeting yesterday referred to the coming meeting of the League of Nations Secretaries Stresemann and the French Foreign Minister, M. Briand, after Germany had been admitted to the League of Nations membership.

In the course of the speech, Marx said he had every confidence that a satisfactory solution of the questions pending between France and Germany would be found notwithstanding the many difficulties.

The aim of the Thoiry discussions, he said, could not and must not be produced by the French, who wanted to keep things in the occupied territory. He appealed to the inhabitants of this territory to observe dignified restraint saying it was the Cabinet's most ardent hope that German occupation

"I could hardly drag my feet after me

"I was living in misery before I began wearing this shoe. I had pain the whole length of my legs from morning till night. Toward evening my legs would feel so weary I could hardly drag them after me. My feet would swell and were so tender and sensitive that I could hardly bear to come down on the heel. Now, all that former pain, weariness, swelling and tenderness and cold feet are gone. This shoe may possibly prolong my life by its relief and comfort." — G. E. K.

ANY man is living in misery who tries to keep up his work with achy, bothersome feet! There is no misery that hangs on to you like this! Every minute it's there! Abused feet! Weakened feet! Useless feet! All because you are trying to wear shoes that let your feet sag, shoes that pinch and cramp the nerves, bones and blood-vessels.

There's no mystery about it. It's simply a matter of ignoring the requirements of Nature—and you suffer. Your feet are all right—the trouble is in your shoes. Try the Arch Preserver Shoe and you'll understand. First of all, this shoe will relieve the pain, because it will give the needed support to your arch. It will stop that sagging and straining. Next, it will make your whole foot comfortable, because its flat inner sole will free your nerves, bones and blood-vessels.

THE ARCH PRESERVER SHOE

The Man's Styleful Shoe with a Real Chassis

These two things: Keeping the foot free from strain and allowing it to rest normally so that it can be healthy, quickly eliminate the horrible leg weariness and leg pains. It is foot abuse that causes leg pains and weariness in nine cases out of ten.

The concealed, built-in arch holds the Arch Preserver Shoe in place so that the shoe, with a smartly styled sole, holds up the foot exactly as if you were going barefooted. It's natural—correct support your foot must have in order to bear the weight of your body.

Here's the most important fact about the Arch Preserver Shoe. It must bear the weight of the body. It is bridge-like in construction and it must have a strong foundation—a walking heel under it. Suspend heel in midair, as other shoes do, and there is no support.

The Arch Preserver Shoe is the first ever offered with the claim that it would prevent foot trouble without sacrificing appearance. The features that make these advantages possible are patented and not to be imitated. You can not secure them unless you wear the Arch Preserver Shoe.

And thousands of men, who have been freed from foot trouble, declare enthusiastically and gratefully that it does even more than we ever have claimed for it.

You do not need to suffer with your feet another day! Our Arch Preserver Shoes will quickly bring your feet back to health and vigor and comfort, back to usefulness. Is it worth while? You wouldn't take a thousand dollars for your Arch Preserver Shoes after you have them on your feet, if you could get more. Yet they cost you no more than other high-grade shoes.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

THE team that beats the Oregon Aggies will win the Pacific Coast conference championship. That's the tip i have just received from a reliable source in Missoula, Mont. My informant is Wilfred Venables, a student in the University of Montana, who has dispatched this red-hot news right after the Aggies had mopped up with Montana by a score of 48 to 0. The tip had been passed for a week, with the Aggies-California game, impending at Berkeley next Saturday. It seems high time to spring it.

The Golden Bears, after a short respite, are now ready to stem the onslaught of the Aggies. The Trojans are the only ones left that seem to have a chance to do it. Idaho and Oregon are the conference teams which the Aggies meet, seem hopelessly out of the running.

If the Aggies get by the Pacific Bears this weekend and they are undefeated in the U.S.C.

in Portland November 12.

Newspaper writers say that the Aggies have been beaten by one of the best teams in the country. It is easy to go over everything.

Tom Denny Ready to Play Against Grizzly Eleven Next Saturday

Quarterback Recovers From Caltech Injuries

Spaulding's Team Displays Great Power

Expect Huge Crowd at Game on Poet Field

BY BEAVER DYER
Contrary to rumors the Whittier College football team will not be without the services next Saturday.

Tom Denny was carried from the field in several pieces last week-end. It was thought he would be unable to appear against B. I. I. Spaulding's Grizzly outfit. Leo Calland, Quaker coach, dispelled all such doubts yesterday afternoon and Denny himself said he was "well for good when he appeared for practice as per usual."

Whittier without Denny would be like Montana without Kelly; Michigan without Kline or the Los Angeles pros without Moore. Tom as quarterback is the life of the party as far as the Quakers are concerned and with him out of the game the world would be certain victims of the Grizzlies' surprise attack.

Although his leg is a bit lame, it was principally exhaustion that caused Denny to be carried from the field during the Caltech game. As a result he was little used yesterday, with the result, much to Calland's delight, that the complete backfield personnel of Pendleton, Clark, Pfeifer and Denny will be ready for action against the Grizzlies.

Spaulding and Ashton started the season as the critics of Oxford, but they have been changed. Right now Weaver, McClung and Huntress look best and it seems likely that two of them will open Saturday's game.

Spaulding's charges are no less anxious for the game than the Poets. The Grizzlies feel that they were in reality the better team last season and to substantiate this belief they have hopes of besting the Poets over in the first game. The Grizzlies, but that the Grizzlies have power. They demonstrated this conclusively by thumping San Diego State so decisively. How the play will function against the veteran Whittier line remains to be seen.

At their Grizzly forward wall will probably be strengthened for the Poet clash. Jim Hudson, Spaulding's best tackle, did not play at all against San Diego. Hallie Peterson, another strong Spaulding, performed only a short time.

Calland is making preparations to handle a capacity crowd at Whittier Saturday. Additional bleachers are being installed. Even at that there probably won't be enough room for all the spectators. Whittier is all steamed up already, while several thousand Grizzly rooters have made plans to take "Ye Friendly Towns" by storm.

SUZANNE SEES BRIGHT OUTLOOK

She wore of the first match shows an advantage for me which I did not really possess. Miss Brown was slow in warming up the first half, and I was not able to get into the game but I still enjoyed it and I took a game or two before she found herself.

I knew that I had my work cut out for me from the first. Toward the end of the set I was first one of the spectators which are a tennis player's chief joy—if he wins them. In a moment, the house was roaring with every stroke. From the corners of my eyes I could see and hear the stands and shouting as we dashed madly back and forth across the court. Suddenly it dawned upon me that these people were cheering me as loudly for me as for Mary and Mabel. Miss Brown is one of the most popular players in America—a sweet woman whom everyone must admire. When I was a little girl I was a novice to play tennis as I have never played before and what at last, one of Miss Brown's magnificent placements earned the crowd and gave me the point by inches and the audience abandoned itself to a frenzy of cheering. I was very near displaying another of the performances for which I am known and famous. Now, in a long career of tennis I have enjoyed a match so much. Never have I had such a gallery. Of course, they could not more loudly cheer me than they did. They knew her and loved her, but they were my friends, too.

"I'LL KNEAD THEE EVERY ROUND, EDDIE!"

This is what the baker boy of Cleveland, Johnny Risko, dreams about his ten-round battle with Sailor Eddie Huffman at the Olympic Auditorium tonight. Johnny is the boy who plastered Paul Berlenbach all over Madison Square Garden one night and he also had one Gene Tunney reclining on the floor in a Cleveland ring before the latter became champ.

RISKO AND HUFFMAN MIX

Baker and Cook Furnish Piece de Resistance on Olympic Auditorium Menu Tonight

The Battling Baker and the Cuffing Cook meet in the ten-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium this evening when Johnny Risko and Eddie Huffman hook up.

Risko, the pride of Cleveland, in which community he thrives in the bakery business, is given a slight edge around town over the former boxer-cum-culinary star, but there is so much controversy over the careers of both bakers that neither has been permanently established as favorite.

Both, who are in the habit of bounting the light heavyweight class, have been in the habit of bounting the light heavyweight class.

DIVORCED WIFE KILLS HUSBAND

Blacksmith Shot When He Invades Home

Slain as He Attacks Friend of Former Mate

Marshal Prevents Woman from Shooting Self

ELYTHE, Oct. 11.—John Cambon, a blacksmith, 45 years of age, was shot and instantly killed last night by his divorced wife at her home. Cambon, who had been in the habit of going to the home of his former wife and making threats against her life, made his appearance there last night and found the doors fastened, so he stepped to the side of the house and called to her to come outside as he wanted to tell her something.

Instead of complying with his request she went into the front room of the house, where a child, John Frost, was playing with a friend. Cambon told him that Mr. Cambon was outside again and that she feared there would be trouble. At that point Cambon entered the house and, having a revolver, forced his way into the kitchen, where he located the back door and reached through and unfastened it. He made a rush for Frost and struck him with a piece of iron pipe, felling him to the floor.

Cambon would kill Frost and then himself, got out her revolver and fired three shots at Cambon. The first took effect in the back, the second in the shoulder, and the third in the heart. The third hit the iron pipe.

The row started two of the children out of the house and phoned for City Marshal White, who had been called to the place on Cambon's urgent summons.

Cambon, who is the father of eight children, had been ordered to pay alimony to his wife, but had been cited to appear before the court and had been given a stay of execution.

The court had ordered him to stay away from the premises, which order was ignored. When City Marshal White arrived, Mrs. Cambon was in the swimming pool in her back yard. Her husband wanted to turn it over to her self, but the marshal relieved her of it.

Dr. Chapman, Deputy County Coroner, was called and an inquest was held at the undertaking parlors of O. R. Butler. The marshal placed a guard at the residence to look after Mrs. Cambon. Dr. Dickinson of Bakersfield will conduct an inquest tonight.

WORKER SETS RECORD

Angeleno Cable Splicer Performs Job in Brief Time

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 11.—Lyman D. Perkins, residing at 6505 South Merlo avenue, in Los Angeles, made a remarkable record in cable splicing when working for the Southern California Telephone Company, splicing 1,212 pairs of wires comprising a cable in the time of five hours and forty-two and one-half minutes. The entire job consisted of 1,000 feet of cable strung on the sides of the road and making it water-proof with lead required in all seven hours and forty minutes. The average length of time to splice each pair of wires is two and one-half days. It is a record.

A Brierly, construction superintendent of the company, who has been engaged in telephone work for the past twenty-eight years, states that the record will be hard to beat, as it was considered one of the best if he could put 400 pairs of wires together in eight hours. Perkins put 1212 pairs together in less than six hours.

YOUNG WILL SPEAK AT LINDSAY TODAY

LINDSAY, Oct. 11.—C. G. Young, Republican nominee for Governor, will speak at the annual meeting of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce tomorrow evening. JURY APPRAISES LOT VALUE

Condemnation of Pasadena Corner Fixes Price at $91,000 Below Owner's Demand

PASADENA, Oct. 11.—Wallace S. Woodworth, local real-estate man, lost $7,000 when he recently refused $40,000 from the city for his northwest corner of Green street and Marconi avenue, declaring that the property should bring him $34,000. The loss occurred today when a jury in a condemnation suit in Superior Judge Craif's court in Los Angeles decided that the corner was worth only $33,000.

The Woodworth corner was the only one to which the city had failed to obtain title preliminary to the offering of Green street between Marconi and Temple drives, one of the main street improvement projects undertaken in Pasadena in recent years.

The city offered Woodworth $40,000 for his corner, but he figured his price of $124,000. The case went to court and the sum the jury granted him today was not only $30,000 less than he asked, but $1,000 less than the city's grand-prize bid.

If Woodworth had succeeded in his appeal, the work of widening Green street at its western end will be rushed to completion in the near future.

During the trial his witnesses testified that the corner was worth $60,000 to $100,000. He may have succeeded in his day's decision to a higher court. He was represented in the case by Herbert Hahn, Pasadena attorney.

Prospective Production of Corn Now Placed at 2,679,988 Bushels

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—Prospective crop production showed very little change during the past month, according to the October crop forecast today by the Agriculture Department.

Growing conditions during September in the country as a whole appear to have been favorable, notwithstanding frost in the Northwest and excessive rains in the Central States. As a result, further improvement in the output of corn is not to be expected.

Other crops reported well advanced in both the Northwest and the South.

The eastern wheat crop, especially the冬 wheat, is in a single-bone condition thirty years ago, said the German architect. He also said that the business conditions were very favorable.

Harold Smith, director of the World War I War Crop Fund, said that the crop projected along military lines has been well advanced and with the exception of a few minor difficulties, is now the chief and most important commercial development.

“The future development of mercantile aviation depends on the availability and technical development of aircraft. The commercial phase must be developed first. The future of aircraft is in the hands of trained aviators and inventors, not operators, and the course of development will bring the airplane into general use by the end of the year,” he said.

England and Germany are the two countries that have made the most progress in the field of aircraft. The German aircraft industry is now the chief and most important commercial development.

The white potato crop is larger than last year but below the five-year average. Total apple production is about the same as last year, as is the case with the orange crop.

The Florida Hurricane damaged the citrus fruit crop of that State to the extent of approximately 600,000 boxes of oranges and 1400 boxes of grapefruit. The new indication is that will exceed the five-year average by 200,000 boxes.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK Oct. 11. (AP)—Virtually all groups of curb-market currencias yielded today to the pressure of liquidation which forced several issues to new low levels. A few recovered part of their earlier heavy losses, but generally the list suffered from the volume of selling which seemed to center principally on the industrials.

In contrast to the depressing tone, produced by British and French stocks, Brazilian, Traction and Light, a Canadian-owned corporation, which shot up for a net gain of more than 13 points, on a small turnover, was the year. Glen Alden Coal was another outstanding issue against the downward movement, closing more than a point higher on the day.

Standard Oil shares extended to Bucyrus Company which registered a net loss of 8 points. Du Pont shares, which were active, fell sharply in early trading, but toward the close recovered to a point higher closing 1 2-4 points net lower. Ford Motor Company, also felt the pressure, losing 4 points from the closing figure of the day.

Gas utilities were heavy, a few issues apparently having difficulty to resist attempts to beat down quotations.

can Gas and Electric and Electric Light were among the highest issues losing a point or so.

STOCK MART IN FRESH DECLINE

which represented a net decline of 1.3 points for the day. Additional automobile price cuts chilled business enthusiasm for other motor vehicles, with Hudson, Studebaker and other makers being off.

The erratic character of trading was reflected in the temporary recoveries of 4 to 8 points from the day's low which took place under the influence of covering, as Coca-Cola, Woolworth, Case Threshing and Commercial Solvents B subsequently relapsed carried all but the exception of Woolworth out of the week's closing figures.

Losses of 2 to 4 points were registered by Adams Express, Atlantic Refining, Allied Chemical, General Asphalt, Standard, National Harvester and Remington Typewriter.

RAILS IRREGULAR

Railroad shares without the selling movement relatively better than the stock market closed irregularly lower. The Van Lines were heavy for a time, Chesapeake and Ohio taking part in the downward movement along with Delaware and Hudson, Louisville and Nashville, Lackawanna and Atchison.

The commodity markets displayed a better tone. Cotton rallied 37 to 50 points at buying was influenced by the plan of the special Coolidge Committee to increase the acreage of the crop, wheat futures advanced about a cent a bushel on weather news, and coffee held steady. Sugar prices were moderately lower.

A brisk rally of about 12 points in Italian lire to the highest price of the year around 4.12 cents was attributed to a short interest in the trapping of a short interest in the market by the Italian government. The financial reforms instituted in Italy, trading in other foreign exchanges was quiet. Sterling held around $4.84 11-16 cents, francs around 2.86 cents.

Call money held at 5 to 6 percent all day and time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

GOOPS!
A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children
By GELETT BURGESS

Copyright: 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

POLITENESS TO ALL
I know a boy who's most polite
To little girls, and that's all right.
But still he frequently annoys
And plagues and teases smaller boys.
It's hard for Goops to learn to be Polite to every one they see!

Pasadena Rotarians Deny Arrangements for Open Meeting Address

Instruction Given Ullman Basis of Attack

The will of the late Rudolph Valentino will be contested and the entire estate sought for his brother and sister, Alberto and Marie Guglielmi, names jointly on the instrument.

Valentino's second wife, as heirs to the estate, it became known yesterday with the admission of the document to probate in the Court of Superior Justice, Willard.

The validity of the provisions of the will, regarded by attorneys as a somewhat curious document in its vagueness and lack of detail, will furnish grounds for a contest. It was stated last night by R. D. Knickerbocker, who, with Milton M. Cohen, represents the brother and sister of the actor.

ADMITTED TO PROBATE

The will was admitted to probate by Judge Willis after a brief hearing. In accordance with his provisions, S. George Ullman, the film actor's former manager, was named executor with a $10,000 bond.

Ullman was required to furnish an account of the estate and to pay debts.

He is to be succeeded by his wife, Alberto Guglielmi, and his son, Alberto Guglielmi, Jr.

S About 1,500,000 Americans are said to be engaged in purely criminal pursuits. The total cost of wrong-doing in the country is estimated between $30,000,000,000 and $40,000,000,000. We have now 300,000 criminals behind the bars. Of these 87 per cent are males. Statisticians figure that the criminal has about seven chances in ten of escape. Either the police or the parent will have to speed up.

CONSCRIPTING AMERICANS
Can one born in this country of parents also born here be seized as a national of another country and forced to perform military service there? Our State Department says no; but the French Department of State says yes; and emphasizes its affirmative by direct action, as some of our nationals of remote French descent found to their consternation when they visited France last summer.

A case in point is that of Robert de Bouville of New Orleans. He was born in Louisiana of an American father and a mother of French parentage, but also born in this country. Last summer he paid a visit to the home of his French grandfather; but, on his arrival at Havre he was arrested and placed in the Eighth Regiment of the French Zouaves, on the theory that he was a Frenchman and had evaded to date military service.

Our State Department has protested, as has been done in a number of similar cases; but the French government has declined to release him. The State Department confirms the report that several other cases in which men born in this country were seized under the military conscription law while visiting France last summer have been called to its attention.

We have no treaty with France covering this point; and the French government operates on the rule that the descendants of French nationals born in other countries are Frenchmen; and that no Frenchman can foreswear his allegiance to France without the consent of the French government. The French government holds further that children born in France of American parents are French nationals and subject to the conscription laws of that country.

France is not the only European state that does not recognize our naturalization laws; but France is the only country that follows a trace of French blood to the third and fourth generation.

According to a Paris dispatch to the New York Times, "The American government is seeking a new treaty to protect thousands of its citizens, suffering from the foregoing difficulties, but there is little likelihood of the treaty ever being approved by France."

Had such a policy been enforced 10 years ago it would have been a fighting matter, as our second war with England attests. But the present generation is not so eager to right with blood a wrong to our nationals who run afoul the laws of another country while temporarily residing there.

We have no satisfactory treaties with France, Greece, Italy, Holland, Poland, Rumania or Turkey for protecting American nationals from compulsory military conscription in those countries. According to the Paris correspondent of the New York Times:

The general basis of continental military law is that every male citizen of a country is liable to conscription. For such purposes citizens include all children of citizens, whether born abroad or not; all children born in the conscripting country and all citizens who are naturalized or naturalizing.

Scores of naturalized Americans who visited Europe last summer will not return until they have served their terms in the armies of the states whose blood they carry in their veins. It has been a bitter disillusionment.

But their experience should serve as a warning to others who imagine that their naturalization papers or birth in this country will protect them from military conscription, once they are caught outside the borders of the United States.

IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

Senate Constitutional Amendment 33, validating a bond issue of $3,500,000 for new State and university structures in Northern and Southern California, is one of the most important proposals to be submitted to the voters in the November election.

Appearing on the ballot as Proposition 16, the amendment would authorize the issuance of bonds for construction of necessary buildings on the new site for the Southern Branch of the University of California at Westwood; for the construction of a State building in Sacramento and for new buildings and additions to old buildings at the University of California in Berkeley.

The permanent improvements proposed under this bond issue are not only justified from the standpoint of immediate need, but are urged as a part of the State's program of economy.

Approval of the issue will enable the State to proceed at once to build the first necessary units of Southern California's State University and thus relieve the great congestion and unsatisfactory conditions existing at the university branch in Los Angeles.

Construction of a State building in Los Angeles will serve the interests both of efficiency and economy, as it will permit the housing of all State offices in one structure, and will relieve the State of the burden of rentals.

The same consideration may in large measure be urged in behalf of proposed completion of State building in Sacramento. These structures, which are needed because of the overcrowded condition of the Capitol, will be idle until funds become available for their completion.

Improvements at the University of California in Berkeley to be made possible by the bond issue have been urgently needed for several years.

The proposed bond issue represents careful study by committees of the State Legislature, by those in charge of the departments affected and by Gov. Richardson, who gave the proposal his approval only after making a personal survey of conditions.

The Times recommends that Proposition 10 be approved in the interests of good business and good citizenship.

SMITHSONIAN ANNUAL
At his death, in 1829, James Smithson, an English chemist, bequeathed $55,000 for the founding of the institution which bears his name. Once a year it issues a report, telling the world of the great advances in science. In this year's report the cosmic rays, discovered by Dr. Millikan, are featured. No one knows what use may yet be made of these tremendous penetrating rays. Nor did anyone know, a few decades ago, what use would be made of electric rays. New knowledge, like new-born babes, has to grow up before its uses can be determined.

It may be true, as Shakespeare asserted, that the devil can cite Scripture for his purpose. But the devil's citing of Scripture can have no effect on those who have assimilated its meaning. The best

Bought and Paid For

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In the decadent process and candidates for office expend huge sums in selling themselves to the voters. Their expenditures include money spent to secure, first, a place on the ticket and, second, to get elected after it has been nominated. The candidates for Governor of California spent, in the last primary election, according to their returns made to the Secretary of State, the following sums:

Goodell	$23,503.16
Young	34,813.93
Richardson	16,751.67
McClellan	14,187.53
Wheeler	10,000.00
Johnson	6,004.36
Thomas	2,801.60
Wardell	1,127.21
Sinclair	67.00

Total $102,166.95

The candidates for Lieutenant-Governor spent the following sums:

Fitz	$9,512.52
King	4,354.13
Merriam	2,992.31
Dunham	180.00
Lewis	$3.00

Total $116,913.86

The candidates for Judges of the Supreme Court spent the following sums:

Houser	$11,350.70
Langdon	6,855.67
Curtis	5,820.27
Wade	881.94

Total $24,003.34

To my mind, this is an appalling state of affairs. The candidates seem to be, possibly, not to blame. They are the victims of circumstances, of changed conditions, of a vicious and rotten political system. It is evident that the office no longer seeks the man, but that the man seeks the office, and it is the man who needs to change his ways.

The man is a candidate for a position on the Supreme Court bench should spend $113,350.70 to secure a nomination at the primaries in a disgrace to the American people and to our elective system. The position of Governor, not counting its predecessor, is $10,000 per annum, or $40,000 for the four-year term. Goodell spent $23,503.16, when there was absolutely no hope for his nomination. If elected, this would have been nearly three years of the salary he would have received.

The figures given above do not take into consideration the money spent by the friends of the various candidates. Each one of them had a committee in charge of his campaign. These committees solicited funds and funds were always known how much they spent.

Of course, it's an optimistic country. See how many special delivery stamps are sold.

Yet every man who thinks pride of ancestry will wants his son to be proud of him.

He's a born conservative if, at the age of 20, he is content with 25-cent socks.

Our wish for the day is to live long enough to see a darned tour closed for repairs.

You'll notice that Englishmen and Americans who hate the other country don't love their own country any too well.

Algebra is useful to the average man only because it enables him to help the kids with their algebra.

We have reached the point now where you can judge a man's social status by the crime he goes to jail for.

Slowly, through the ages, the domesticated dog has progressed from out of doors to a kennel to the bedroom.

A common misfortune binds married people closer unless it is that of being married to one another.

Plainly, there was something lacking in the advertising of the Sesquicentennial. It is a failure not to come as a surprise.

The exposition commemorating the 150th anniversary of American Independence lagged from the beginning.

Since the opening on June 1, Mayor Kendrick recites, it has been visited by fewer than 5,000,000 persons, whereas 25,000,000 had been expected. Thus, he says, failure may be laid, not to the management, but to the lack of interest on the part of the general public.

Francis Bacon characterized reading values in the succinct remark, "Some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed and some few to be chewed and digested." At the head of the list of the rare few which we should read, mark, learn and inwardly digest stands the Holy Bible. Many who have loved and studied the great book fear that reading it without comment to minds still immature will place it among the nonessential multitude of minor writings that are merely to be tasted.

Such objects to Initiative No. 17 have some ground for the fears expressed. The most frequently employed word in the vocabulary of the child who is anxious to understand is the little word Why? The child mind invariably wants to be given a reason for everything the eyes see or the ears hear. Children are no dumb or blind acceptors of what they do not understand. When a teacher refuses to answer a question on some text or chapter that comes up in the Bible reading the child is all too likely to conclude that there is something amiss either with the Bible or the teacher.

And it may be that the exposition idea is wanting. The World's Fair at Chicago remains a landmark, but most of the similar expositions that have been held since are only dim memories. In the old days a journey to an exposition was an event remembered for a lifetime. Today the American people travel often and travel far.

It is to be feared that trips for the sole purpose of viewing expositions are fading away. The World's Fair at Chicago remains a landmark, but most of the similar expositions that have been held since are only dim memories. In the old days a journey to an exposition was an event remembered for a lifetime. Today the American people travel often and travel far.

The difficulty that caused the permission of the use of the Bible to be limited by the clause "read without comment" does not spring from the text of the book, but from the limitations of the human interpreters. All the controversy, dogma, doctrine, prejudice, bigotry, intolerance that have been grafted on to the eternal truths of the Bible have been collected from outside covers. In spite of ignorance, malice, interested motives, shallow wits, cynical cleverness, comment of 2000 years has been unable to add or subtract one iota from the inspiration or influence exerted by the Bible or to shake it from its firm foundation.

CHARACTERISTICS of the BANK of ITALY

Conservative, yet broadminded

Conservatism in a bank is a valuable characteristic, but when it is constantly carried to extremes the institution is not fulfilling its obligations and duties to the community.

No bank in the United States operates its business along more sensibly conservative lines than the Bank of Italy—but we try to be humanly helpful in our transactions, realizing that sincerity, integrity and character have a place just as definite in credit transactions as the best collateral.

Many of the great industrial and agricultural interests of California can testify to the sustaining broadmindedness of the Bank of Italy.

Church Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Lillian Heathman, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heathman of South Pasadena, and John Kendrick of South Pasadena, was celebrated at 8 o'clock last Wednesday evening in the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale. Rev. A. Headhouse of the First Christian Church, Pasadena, officiating.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and a long wedding veil of imported lace surmounted with a wreath of orange blossoms. She also wore a short train of white roses and white sweet peas. Assisting the bride as maid of honor was Miss Gladys Kendrick, gowned in celadon green georgette, and carrying an arm bouquet of pink roses and white sweet peas. Virginia Uts and Marjorie Wade were the flower girls. David L. Stephens and Harold Greenwald were as best man and maid of honor.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick departed on an extensive tour through California. They will reside in Glendale upon their return.

Stauffer-Charleville

As a company beautiful in its simplicity, at the home of the bride's parents, Mereda Lucille Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen Stauffer of 390 North El Molino Avenue, Pasadena, and Joseph Charleville of 9924 Terrace Drive, Los Angeles, were married Sunday afternoon in presence of the immediate relatives of both families.

Dr. M. H. Neale, pastor of the First Methodist Church, read the service at 4:30 o'clock. Just before the ceremony, Miss Florence Thode played, "O, Promise Me" and the bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. As the soft strains of the bridal Chorus began, the bridegroom, and J. W. Charleville, his brother, who served as best man, took their places before the altar of ferns and palms in the living room. At the side of the altar were tall white geraniums and huge baskets of golden dahlias and gladioli in shades of pink.

Miss Dorothy Stauffer, who attended her sister as maid of honor, played in pink georgette and carrying pink sweet peas, entered followed by the dainty flower girl, Billie Jean Charleville, niece of the bridegroom, dressed in white georgette. The bride, on the arm of her father, was in a white lace gown with a belt through an aisle marked off by flower-trimmed ribbons held by little Jessie and Aldola Charleville, also nieces of the bridegroom, who were dressed alike in pretty little orchid crepe de chine frocks.

The bride was gowned in apricot chiffon trimmed with pearls, her veil was tufted to match her gown, held in place by a small diamond and a point lace which was once carried by a great-aunt of the bride. The bridal bouquet was of Columbia roses and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony a reception and wedding supper was served, immediately after which Mr. and Mrs. Charleville left for their wedding trip. After the 18th inst. they will be at home at 3924 Terrace Drive, Los Angeles.

Wilshire I-ON-A-CO

TOXAEMIA - The source of Disease

By Gaylord Wilshire

THE question is often asked, "Why is it that the I-ON-A-CO is effective in practically all ailments?" Briefly, the answer is that the I-ON-A-CO attacks the source of practically all ailments. That source is toxemia—a poisonous condition of the body, the very foundation of disease.

CAUSE OF TOXAEMIA: The body, as you know, is composed of billions of cells. New cells are being created every day from the nourishment we consume, taking the place of old cells which wear out and die. Every time we move a muscle, we destroy cells. When you have exercised vigorously, you have noticed that the muscles brought into play were stiff for a short time. This stiffness is a mild form of toxemia. It means that cells have been destroyed too rapidly for the body to eliminate them as fast as it should.

OXYGEN: Sometimes these dead cells are never eliminated. They remain in the body and become highly poisonous. This is toxemia. Why are the dead cells not eliminated? Because the body cannot eliminate them until they have been oxidized—that is, until they have combined with the oxygen which we breathe and which is carried to them by the blood. And, for some reason, they do not combine with the oxygen.

WARBURG'S DISCOVERY: In 1924, Professor Otto Warburg showed what that reason was. He demonstrated before the Rockefeller Institute that it is the iron in our chemical makeup which causes the oxygen and the cells to unite. When the iron is not in a proper state, this process of oxidation is incomplete. Toxemia is the result.

THE I-ON-A-CO: Now, iron can be magnetized. And when a person slips an I-ON-A-CO over his shoulders or around his waist, he is in a magnetic field. Hence, through magnetization the ability of the iron to unite with the cells is improved. The dead cells are oxidized and then quickly eliminated. Thus the cause of disease is removed.

DELIGHTFUL FREE TREATMENTS: However, do not accept my evidence of the I-ON-A-CO's effectiveness in your own experience. Visit us. Take a delightful 10-minute treatment. There will be no charge, nor will you be obliged in any way. Surely, a return to health is worth making this simple test. Office hours are from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on week days, and from 9 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on Saturdays.
